

Excalibur Gully MT

Roger Dubuis is collaborating with street artist Gully to release a new watch mixing both creative territories of the artist and the brand. The selected watch is the new development of the Excalibur Original collection. The star-shaped bridge is replaced by a skeleton dial representing the signature of the artist, using micro-structures filled with luminescent colored lacquer. The watch houses a calibre with improved performances: increased power reserve up to 72 hours thanks to tourbillon lower carriage made in titanium. Upper tourbillon carriage in cobalt chrome for better finishing: mirror polish. Both titanium and cobalt chrome are anti-magnetic. Improved durability thanks to new lube.

Description

- The skeleton calibres manufactured by Roger Dubuis in Geneva are the essence of the expressive singularity of the Excalibur collection. Complying with one of the most respected certifications of Haute Horlogerie, the Poinçon de Genève, the Excalibur watches are designed like contemporary works of art. Every single component being finished by hand, the watches are symbols of passion. The work of hyper-skilled craftsmen is at the forefront of each watch with a direct view on the creative mechanics making these pieces more alive than ever.
